HKDI & IVE (LEE WAI LEE) STUDENT AWARDS & ACHIEVEMENTS

FOREWORD

The new issue of Dazzle celebrates the achievements and award-winning works of students from HKDI and IVE (LWL). The success of our students attests the effectiveness of HKDI and IVE (LWL) approach to nurture creative thinking, cultural sensitivity and global perspective through contemporary curriculum and active collaboration with academic and industry partners.

Participation in local and international competitions enables students to hone their skills in real-world situations and to face competitive challenges. These experiences not only broaden their perspectives but also empower them to become active contributors to the creative industry in the global scale.

It is increasingly important for creative professionals to take an active role in enhancing the way we live. The interdisciplinary approach adopted by HKDI and IVE (LWL) offers students a supportive environment to explore and address various issues in the larger socio-cultural context. This publication demonstrates how students infuse their creativity, imagination and professional knowledge into functional and outstanding designs that represent social innovation and offer creative solutions to existing problems.

We are proud to present to you our students whose works have been recognised internationally by industry experts and jury panels of various competitions, as they embark on their creative journey as designers, social innovators, impact entrepreneurs, and most importantly, a new generation of creative professionals and critical thinkers.

Rehabilitation

The set of paper stationery, including envelopes, letterheads and business cards, is inspired by the creativity and artistic expressions shared by children with autism. It demonstrates how children with autism love to express themselves through artistic creations. The design is very heartwarming with the aim to raise social awareness on the connection between people with autism and their artistic potentials.

IMAGE LAB 360°

Department of Fashion and Image Design

Supported by the Linda Yip Charitable Foundation, HKDI established an experimental space for image design - Image Lab 360° at PMQ, Central. Renowned hair stylists, make-up artists and photographers lead HKDI students of Fashion and Image Design to offer professional hair-styling, make-up and photography services to the clients. The Image Lab 360° cooperates with the industry, so that students have the opportunity to pursue different internship programmes.

Cohesion

Cohesion is a lamp with an extraordinary shape, which helps to ensure an ordered dispersion of light. The design draws inspiration from the sun, as the latter brings life and energy to the world. The lamp is also designed to enhance family cohesion, as it encourages interaction among family members when they gather together to assemble the lamp. Users can create their own “unique” lamps by choosing straws of their favourite colours and use their own ways to assemble them. The lamp is a fun yet practical invention of all time.

Xi Qu

Xi Qu is inspired by the Chinese Opera, one of the most valuable Chinese traditional cultures. The structures and textures of the opera costumes created by different knitting patterns and forms are integrated into the contemporary fashion. The blue colour highlights the spirits of justness and rightfulness of the Chinese Opera.

ARTALIVE@PARK

Department of Product and Interior Design

ArtAlive@Park, organised by the Leisure and Cultural Services Department, is an exploratory programme with an aim to inspire innovation among local students by involving them in the creation and installation of artworks for public spaces. After eight months of preparations, three installations, including Pipe Me Not, Raise and Six Degrees created by students of Higher Diploma in Landscape Architecture were unveiled at the prestigious Tamar Park on Hong Kong's harbourfront from May through August 2014. It was hoped that visitors would be able to embrace a novel interactive park experience through personal contact with innovative and site-specific works.

夏意識

Wong Chun Yin and Ng Ka Chai are the guitarists and bassist of a young, passionate and fun-loving local music band, SilHungMo (小紅帽), which was founded in 2012 summer. Similar to the fairy tale Little Red Riding Hood, SilHungMo creates powerful music with an innocent heart which has led them in winning various music band competitions. In 2013, the band released their first EP “聽着呼吸擴張狀態”. “夏意識” which is one of the songs composed by the band, calling to the youths to reconstruct their lives during their passionate age as they see many youngsters are getting lost in the city. The song is also seasoned as a hot and energetic summer for the audiences.

DUNHUANG - UNTOLD TALES, UNTOLD RICHES

Department of Information Technology
Department of Communication Design and Digital Media

Students were invited by Hong Kong Heritage Museum to produce the animation for a feature exhibition - "Dunhuang - Untold Tales, Untold Riches", which was showcased from 28 November 2014 to 16 March 2015 at Hong Kong Heritage Museum. This exhibition was jointly presented by the Leisure and Cultural Services Department and Dunhuang Academy. Three sets of animation and e-book app, produced by students of Multimedia from IVE (Lee Wai Lee) and students of Publication Design and Print Media, Creative Media and Digital Music and Media from HKDI presented the Dunhuang drawings in a dynamic and vivid way with unique music.

The illustration of the Amitāyurdhyāna Sūtra (High Tang period) on the north wall of Mogao Cave 45 is noted for its spacious layout and succinct style

Ashing

Ashing is inspired by riots and wars happened in the world these days. The debris remained, being the potent witnesses speaking the vileness and venality of people like walking corpses, become the major theme in the collection. With various special techniques, the fabric with cracking pattern is created, depicting the cracking walls and the ruins after the war. It aims to remind people to love each other and make the world a better place where people can live with harmony.

Elements

Elements represents the Chinese Five Elements - Water, Fire, Wood, Metal and Earth, which are believed to be the fundamental and natural elements of everything in the universe. According to the traditional Chinese philosophy in Taoism, each element, with its own characteristics and associations with different aspect of nature, is mutually generated as well as a restraint to each other. The entire collection depicts the unique structure of different elements by print and texture of fabric as well as special cutting and silhouette.

Lost - The Stolen Thoughts

The highlight of Lost - The Stolen Thoughts is the gradual effect of the print transforming from a beautiful city to all black, representing how people slowly lose themselves nowadays with countless frames and restrictions that are forced on to them, like one's thoughts being “stolen” by society. To emphasize the concept of “losing”, net yarn in black is adopted — losing through the net, by merging it with other fabrics without threads using a special binding technique. The work aims at reminding people to move forward toward their dreams, not just follow the crowds.

HI! 13 DOTS EXHIBITION

Department of Fashion and Image Design

Co-organised by the Comix Home Base and Hong Kong Arts Centre, Hi! 13 Dots - exhibition of comics works by a renowned local comics artist, Theresa Lee Wai-chun who started her career in 1960s, was held from 29 November 2014 to 17 January 2015 at Comix Home Base, Wanchai. Theresa collaborated with 50 students of Fashion and Image Design. The students spent one month to design 9 outfits based on Theresa's comic sketches for her signature work - 13 Dots. The exhibition also showcased the original sketches and publications of Theresa's comics works.

The Good Country Sense for “361” Shoe Brand -

Buy One Share One Charity Campaign

This is an advertising concept to promote the “Buy One Share One Charity Campaign” for a training shoe brand “361°” in the mainland China. With a view to raise awareness of children who go to school barefoot, the brand donates one pair of shoes to underprivileged children at villages in China every time a pair is purchased. To promote the campaign, a website themed ‘That’s Good Country Sense’ is set up, containing of four clips: ‘The Durian’, ‘The Mechanics’, ‘The Gift’ and ‘The Pet’, to contrast lifestyles between urban and rural areas. The clips show how farmers use simple country sense to help city people solve their everyday problems.

LIGHT ◦ SHADOW ◦ GALLERY

Department of Product and Interior Design

Collaborated with HomeSquare, a thematic shopping mall under Sun Hung Kai Properties Limited, HKDI launched a Light ◦ Shadow ◦ Gallery at HomeSquare in Shatin, showcasing the furniture and lighting designs created by students from the Department of Product and Interior Design. The exhibits highlight the amazing contrast between light and shadow, echoing the theme of the exhibition.
